EXPECT EARLY START ON SENIOR CITIZENS' HOME

Plans for the Drayton Valley Senior Citizens' Home were revealed at a meeting here last Wednesday between government officials and local representatives

The $475,000 project is expected to start this fall after site negotiations have been completed

The home will be constructed in three clusters around a central court and will accommodate 52 persons in 46 single rooms and three doubles.

The home, the fifth of its design to be built in the province, features indoor gardens with ornamental pools and fountains.

All rooms have outside windows toilet and basin and the building is carpeted throughout.

Besides private rooms, the lodge will have a lounge, dining room, library, recreation room handicrafts room and hairdressing room. Two small suites are included for the matron and assistant.

TRUSTEES STAND FIRM ON CONSULTATION ISSUE

Mr. R. A. Bailey chairman of the North Central (West) School Authorities Association, says trustees will continue to oppose Alberta Teachers' Association demands to have a consultation clause written into a collective agreement with their teachers.

The statement was made following a meeting last week of school trustees from Jasper, Grande Cache, Parkland, Drayton Valley, Lac Ste. Anne, Thibault, Westlock and Barrhead.

Mr. Bailey said trustees have a earnest desire to settle the dispute and avoid the strike which has been threatened by the teachers. "However, this can only happen if the ATA drops its demand for consultation," he said.

The consultation clause states

District Governor Visits Rotary

Rotary District Governor Walter Wright of Dawson Creek, B.C., paid his official visit to the Drayton Valley Club last Wednesday. He was accompanied by his wife, Edith.

Mr. Wright met members of the club executive at a noon luncheon and then attended a Ladies' Night in the Cardium Room the same evening.

A large crowd of Rotary members and guests filled the hotel banquet room for the occasion. Mr. Wright, in his address, encouraged the club in local undertakings and commented on the growth of Rotary in countries a around the world.

This was his first visit to Drayton Valley and he expressed mild surprise at the modern, progressive community he found "off the beaten track."

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Leake and daughter, Laura. Miss Leake was the Drayton Valley Club's representative in the "Adventure in Citizenship" program held earlier this year. She was sent to Ottawa by the Drayton Valley Club where she, along with young people from across the country, were guests of the Ottawa Rotary Club for a week.

She showed slides and gave a comprehensive account of the trip and its many highlights that included meeting Members of Parliament and visits to places of interest.

WABAMUN LARGER AFTER HARVEST

Wabamun Lake is now 640 acres bigger as a water playground.

A weed-harvesting operation by the provincial lands and forests department has increased the effective size of the lake for recreational use by cutting weeds in the 640-acre area to a depth of up to four feet.

The operation, which began July 13 and concluded last week was described as "very successful" by G. J. Strudwick, regional supervisor for the department in Wabamun Lake area.

Trustees Stand Firm on Issue

that school boards must consult with their teachers before making decisions which would effect teacher working conditions.

"On the surface it sounds like a pretty innocent demand," Mr. Bailey said, "but when you consider that almost every decision that a school board makes has some implications for teachers it changes the meaning of consultation completely."

On the basis trustees feel that a school board's chances of survival as a responsive and responsible governing body "are about as good as that of the proverbial snowball in Hell."

Mr. Bailey also said trustees are the first to recognize the importance of consultation with their teachers and that there always has been consultation in the past.

"Why, at this point in time, has it become so necessary to include it in the collective agreement thus making boards legally bound to the likes or dislikes of its teaching staff?" he asked.

In trying to answer this question trustees have come to the conclusion that some teachers through the direction and support of their provincial union have a growing desire to take over control of education.

According to trustees this problem has been slowly building for the past several years and finally came to a head when trustees joined in regional bargaining associations to better resist the province-wide pressure applied by the 22,000 member teachers' union.

"After years of playing one small school board against another in the bargaining process the union has now been confronted with a unified group of school boards who are better able to resist union demands," Mr. Bailey said.

"In response to this show of solidarity by school boards the union has cried 'foul ball' and has adopted a public attitude of hurt and bewilderment," he said.

"But underneath all the publicity the ATA's goal remains the same. The innocent sounding consultation clause is simply the first step in a union effort which would ultimately give a small non-elected group (the teachers' union) the right to determine education policy.

In the course of this year's negotiations NC(W)SAA has offered teachers salary increases in excess of 6%, equitable increases in administrators allowances, and increased school board contributions to health and insurance plans. These offers have subsequently been refused by the teachers because of the boards refusal to include the consultation clause.

"If a strike situation does occur," Mr. Bailey said, "trustees believe taxpayers, parents, and students, will have a difficult time rationalizing this action by a group of people who at present work only 200 days per year and who have proposed to instruct pupils only 23 1/3 hours per week and who already earn above average salaries in the communities in which they work."

Trustees still remain hopeful that a strike can be averted and have reaffirmed their willingness to hold further meetings with union negotiators.

The Volunteer Fireman

The volunteer fireman is an unique type of citizen. You may know such a man who is willing to be on call at any hour, day or night, in order to provide protection for his neighbor and himself from fire.

You may wonder why a man would be willing to give up his favorite TV show, postpone some reading or some "do-it-yourself" house chores he's been planning (plus sacrificing his evenings with his wife and children) just to attend a meeting where he learns how to function as a volunteer servant on behalf of his fellow man.

You will notice this volunteer fireman is busy doing his part of being a good Canadian.

It's good to recognize this valuable citizen and if you see him on some special projects during Fire Prevention Week in the community, tell him you back him up and that you appreciate his service.

County Legislating in Questionable Area

The County of Parkland Council appears to be getting into an area of questionable jurisdiction in its recent decision to consider a bylaw prohibiting the discharge of firearms throughout the county. It is doubtful if a county council has any legal right to enact legislation concerning hunting and wildlife which has always been the domain of federal and provincial governments.

Let it be known at this point that the editor of this newspaper recognizes the problems inflicted on rural residents by thoughtless fools running loose with firearms. We agree wholeheartedly that any landowner must retain the right to protect his livestock and property and refuse the privilege of hunting to any and all, if he so desires.

However, a blanket "no shooting" sign, is a drastic measure that could have far-reaching effects. If such a bylaw was passed it could well be argued that the "no shooting" ban should also apply to landowners and their families. This might, in effect, create an enormous game sanctuary and farmers and ranchers denied the right to protect their crops and livestock from depredation by wildlife of any kind.

Far fetched? Not really! Game birds and animals are the property of all citizens and if hunters are denied access to them, you can rest assured that their organizations will explore every avenue to deny the same privilege to landowners.

The magnitude of this council proposal could be staggering. County after county could follow suit until the whole province became a tight little prohibition area. How would this sit with the Alberta government whose out-of-province advertising attempts to attract visitors to a "hunters paradise"?

The privilege of hunting is not of great concern to this writer -- it's a privilege seldom, if ever, used. We are, however, very concerned with civil liberties, and this action appears to be a blanket condemnation of people who enjoy hunting, in an effort to curb the activities of the troublemakers who are present in every segment of society.

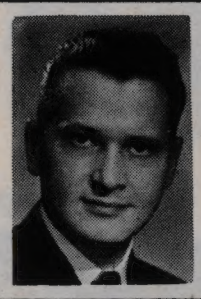
Protection for the rural population should be obtained by legislation that keeps firearms out of the hands of those incapable of handling them safely, and heavy penalties for those guilty of destruction or damage to farm property.

Written consent of landowners in order to hunt, is in our opinion, a highly unworkable suggestion. Road allowances and vacant land have long been open to hunting. Responsible hunters get the consent of the owner of occupied land -- without the necessity of county legislation. But can he really be expected to spent a great part of his short hunting day trying to find the owner of an unoccupied section who may live many miles away?

As we said earlier, we recognize the problem of thoughtless hunters to the farm population and feel that the County Council is sincerely looking for a solution. The proposal, however, is a poor solution and likely to stir up a hornet's nest.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.



World concern continues to mount over the repercussion of the new American economic policies which include a surcharge on imports into the United States.

This concern was very much evident at the 17th Annual Assembly of NATO Parliamentarians which was held at Ottawa last week. I was privileged, again, to be a member of the fourteen-man Canadian delegation to this Assembly.

While NATO is still primarily a military alliance, increasing emphasis is being placed on other than military relationships between the member countries. The conference just concluded was completely dominated by economic discussions.

It was obvious from the beginning how most member countries viewed this Assembly. The West Germans, for example, sent the largest delegation, twenty-eight persons. Their job was to convince the Americans of the inadvisability of President Nixon's economic policies.

The Americans, for their part, sent a powerful delegation that included Senator Ted Kennedy, Senator Jacob Javits and Congressman Wayne Hays, among twenty others.

Canada took every opportunity to inform the Americans of the adverse effect of Nixon's measures on this country.

In addition to the normal meetings, the fact that the deliberations were taking place in Canada gave us additional openings for getting our message across. These included opening speeches to the Assembly by the Honorable Mitchell Sharp, Minister of External Affairs and Terry Murphy, M.P. for Sault Ste. Marie, leader of the Canadian delegation. In addition, Pat Mahoney, M.P. for Calgary South and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Finance delivered an important speech to the Assembly Economic Committee.

The concern of all NATO countries was expressed by the retiring Secretary-General of NATO, Manlio Brosio, in his speech to the Assembly when he warned that:

"To say that the weaknesses (in NATO) are confined to the trade and monetary fields would be little consolation, because we we know that at a given moment a monetary crisis is bound to become a political and overall one."

In the end, the Assembly passed a resolution urging member countires not to take unilateral actions such as those taken by President Nixon. Most of the American delegates to whom I talked had been convinced that, in many respects, the Nixon measures were inappropriate, particularly as they applied to Canada.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

One of the new institutions the Conservative government is likely to create in Alberta will be an auditor-general charged with responsibility for reducing wasteage of public money.

The need for a financial watchdog was a common complaint of Peter Lougheed during his four years in opposition and now that he is premier he is in a position to implement the idea.

Auditors-general tend to become controversial figures capable of embarrassing even the most fiscally-responsible government. The reports of the federal auditor-general, Maxwell Henderson, have been laden with political dynamite -- the high cost of repair for the Bonaventure is probably the best known example.

The Trudeau government attempted to muzzle Mr. Henderson but a barrage of criticism from the public and Parliamentary Opposition kept him from being emasculated.

What the Conservatives have proposed for Alberta is an expanded auditor's office responsible directly to the Legislature.

The old Social Credit administration had turned down Mr. Lougheed's pleas with the explanation that auditor C.K. Huckvale did not need expanded powers and already exercised considerable authority over spending habits.

Mr. Huckvale, at 61, is approaching retirement age and likely will leave the auditor's post before the customary retirement age of 65.

It will likely be up to both Premier Lougheed and Mr. Huckvale to determine whether the auditor will pioneer the new approach to spending controls or step aside and let a new man take the job.

The new government already has taken steps to keep spending down and review program priorities of the old administration.

A limited freeze has been imposed on civil service hiring and Minister-without-portfolio Helen Hunley assigned to help Treasurer Gordon Miniely uncover unnecessary duplication of services in government departments.

While it could take time for these moves to show effect, the Conservative administration is committed to revamping fiscal priorities quickly.

However, Mr. Miniely has said the job of switching Alberta over to a program budgeting system could take several years and the government's 1972-73 budget slated for presentation next March will lean heavily on the existing form.

Stop Fires ... Save Lives

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Western Review
Dear Sir:

On October 13 we have an opportunity to vote on a referendum asking if we want organized minor sports on Sunday morning.

We live in a highly organized world, for five or six days of the week our work is organized, our lives are organized, our recreation is organized. Every day people by the hundreds flock to doctors and psychiatrists to ask for pills that will alleviate the effects of living in a world which is go-go all the time. Are we, these same people, going to be so stupid as to vote for organized minor sport on Sunday?

Since the beginning of time man has always recognized that he must have periods of rest in his life. Science has tried to refute many of the ideas of the church, however no psychriatrist has ever denied the fact that man must have periods of rest in his life. In fact most patients of psychriatists are told in no uncertain terms that their lives must be reorganized in such a way as to bring their lives into order so that they can cope with the world.

My children all enjoy organized recreation events, however, they are always happy when there are little recesses from organized recreation such as Christmas holidays, etc.

Please think, freedom to do as you choose is a precious thing, are you going to vote away your family's freedom to enjoy a day together on October 13th?

Peggy Tyler.

Editor,
The Western Review.
Dear Sir;

Wouldn't it be nice to have one day during the week when the family could be together in this overly-organized society we live in? You could have Sundays as this family-day, if you vote "No" to the plebescite on October 13th, regarding organized Sunday morning minor sport.

Organized practises on Sunday mornings discriminate in a rather subtle way, against those children in families who do keep Sunday as a day to be together in whatever way they choose. Most parents, try to instill in their children, a sense of loyalty to the organization to which they belong, and most coaches appreciate the efforts of the children who "show up" for practises. If you vote 'yes' to this plebiscite, you leave the children no choice and you cause a conflict in the family. If you vote 'no', there is no choice to be made and maybe you have helped to keep the family unit a more vital part of our society.

The churches in the community are not expecting any great influx of people to Sunday School and Church if this plebiscite is turned down, but they are concerned with the continuing break-up of the family as a unit, especially on one day which we could help to set aside as a day of rest and relaxation and togetherness.

If we do not vote 'no' now, we may not be faced with only hocke and figure skating on Sunday mornings, but any other sport in which our children wish to participate could be scheduled at this time.

Keep Sunday for our families, vote "No".

Yours truly,
for Women's Christian
Social Action Group,
M. Boles, Secretary.

REEVE'S REPORT

By Les Miller, Reeve
County of Parkland

This being the first report since the provincial election, I would first like to extend congratulations to the successful candidates in our area. Mr. Zander has served our County well for many years, so we know he will be a dedicated MLA, who will serve his constituency well and I feel sure he will be a real asset to the County in meetings with the government. I think we can count on him being on our side. We will truly miss him on Council and I would like to express my sincere thanks to him for the services he has rendered to the County and also the great amount of help he has given me, from my very first day on Council. We wish him well in this next step in service to his community. Mr. Purdy we know also as a part-time employee of the County and a very active community worker in Wabamun. We know he too has a sincere desire to be involved and serve his constituency. He has indicated his desire and willingness to work with the County and be a liason with the government. This we appreciate.

I would also like to thank Mr. Jespersen for the services and assistance he has given to the County. His willingness to arrange meetings with the government and attend with us and support our causes was sincerely appreciated. It will be interesting to see the programs the new government will initiate. We will certainly work closely with them and present our views, when required, in the interests of our ratepayers.

Our road construction program is progressing fairly well again. Most of the equipment is working on the Highvale road where we had received a natural resources grant. We have now received an additional $40,000 grant to proceed further with this project. To speed up the construction program and to give us more comparison between costs of our own construction and contract work, two more miles of road have been contracted and work will be starting soon. One mile is in the Golden Spike area and one mile north of Seba Beach.

The oiling program is completed, as oiling after this date is not practical. The gravelling program is nearing completion and would be finished had there not been a shortage of trucks during the summer. Department of Highways have also started work on part of 118 Avenue on the grid road system.

The no-shooting by-law outlined in my report for June has been passed for the area specified. Since the advertising of this by-law there have been many requests to make it County wide. Our agriculture advisory committee also strongly recommends that it be County wide. We are therefore contemplating this move and will be advertising to this effect. To refresh your memory, the by-law would prohibit the discharge of firearms in the County or area specified except by the owner of land on his own property, or on private property with written consent of the owner. We will also be contacting such groups as Fish & Game Associations to get their reactions before implementing this by-law. Your reaction and comments would also be appreciated.

This year a bursary program is being initiated in the County. The program provides for four $200.00 bursaries to students residing in the County of Parkland who plan to attend institutions of higher learning in Alberta under the following categories:

(a) School of Home Economics
(b) A recognized College of Agriculture or Veterinary College leading to a degree in Agriculture or Veterinary Medicine.
(c) Schools of Agriculture leading to a diploma.
(d) Programs directly related to Agriculture in Community Colleges.

An awarding committee of the District Agriculturist, District Home Economist and Superintendent of Schools or their appointees was established. Their selection established the winners for 1971-72 to be: James Schellenberger, Ralph Goertz, Sharon Straus, Donna Haight, Lucas Piskunawicz (alternate). We hope these bursaries will help fill the need to encourage our young people to follow agricultural pursuits.

The calfhood vaccination program previously administered by the County will be handled by the local veterinarians in the County this fall. Anyone wishing calves vaccinated should notify their local veterinarian in Stony Plain or Drayton Valley.

To further improve service to the people in the Drayton Valley area, a full time clerk, Mrs. Lovetta Kjorlien, has been employed to be in the County Office at all times during regular working hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. to take phone calls or assist persons with any problems.

There appears to be considerable confusion regarding the proposed recreation plebiscite. The plebiscite is to be held in the County only, as a result of a request from the 1970 annual ratepayers meeting to do this. The question is whether the County remain in the Parkland Regional Recreation Council or not. The plebiscite is not being held in any of the other member jurisdictions in the recreation council. It is not the wish of your County Council to drop out of the Recreation Council; we are simply following a directive from the 1970 annual meeting to get the views of the county ratepayers. We realize there may be weaknesses in the operation of the Recreation Council, however, we feel the development of programs, especially in the area of learning to swim, arts and crafts, the excellent operation of the many ball and hockey leagues, etc. has justified the formation of the Recreation Council. The area is certainly being held up as a model throughout the province and I am sure will continue to be the example for the rest of the province to follow. As in any new program or venture, changes will have to be made as needs and experience dicate.

In the school area, at the time of this writing, salary negotiations are still in progress with the teachers and we sincerely hope a settlement will be reached and the rumored teacher strike will be averted.

To further improve communications between the school operation and the public, a regular column will appear in this newspaper starting this week. The column will be prepared by our administrative staff and will deal with all aspects of school operation. In addition, a question box will also be offered through this newspaper to answer questions pertaining to schools and school operation. I would encourage you to read this column and avail yourselves of this opportunity to get answers to your questions regarding school operation. We hope this service will prove useful and informative.

SUNDAY MORNING SPORTS FOR MINORS

ON ELECTION DAY - VOTE YES

WHY

By Voting "YES" you are backing approximately 600 youths of this town and giving them a chance to decide if they want to participate in Sunday morning sports, the decision should be up to the parents and children that actually participate in the various programs and no one else.

Sports Effected

* Hockey
* Figure Skating
* Curling - (No Sunday Morning Bonspiels)
* Swimming (No Sunday Morning Swim Meets)
* Gymkhana
* Baseball
* Volleyball or Basketball

Reasons for Voting Yes

1. Choice should be left open, if voted down there no longer is a choice.
2. This is a personal problem of parents with children involved, not a civic problem.
3. Children participate by their own choice, no one is forced to take part in Sunday morning sports programs.
4. Limited recreational facilities should be used as much as possible.
5. Children involved in hockey Sunday morning rotate, therefore any one child probably only takes part every 3rd or 4th Sunday
6. A survey on other towns showed all run Sunday morning sports, none banned it.
7. Why should people who have no children participating, or people with no children at all make the decision for others, if participating parents are not capable of this, what are they capable of doing.

FROM CONCERNED TEACHERS IN YOUR COMMUNITY

PLEASE READ -- THIS INFORMATION AFFECTS ...

THE EDUCATION OF YOUR CHILD

DID YOU KNOW:

that teachers in your community are presently teaching without a contract, and have been doing so, in most instances, for over a year?

that teachers in your community are no longer able to negotiate with your local school board, as has been the practice in past years?

that local school trustees, taking their advice from the executive of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, have adopted a very non-flexible attitude in negotiations with teachers that will, unless changed, lead to the closure of schools in this community?

that your school trustees and teachers have only a minority voice in the current dispute, because the trustees you elected to look after the interests of education in your community have given their rights away to an organization known as the North Central (Western) Alberta School Authorities Association?

HOW DID THIS HAPPEN?

The Alberta School Act was revised in 1970. The two changes that effect the present trustee-teacher dispute are: (1) many working conditions of teachers that were set out in the former School Act were now to be negotiated, and (2) trustees were given the right to form employer organizations for the purpose of collective bargaining.

(1) The placing of all conditions of employment of teachers under The Alberta Labour Act means that teachers have no protection whatsoever unless these conditions of employment are negotiated with trustees and set into the contract. The Alberta Labour Act states that all working conditions are negotiable and, if not covered in the collective agreement, appear to be the employer's prerogative.

(2) The decision of local school trustees to discontine the practice of bargaining with teachers at the local level and bargain as an employers' organization led to the formation of the North Central (Western) Alberta School Authorities' Association (NCWASAA). The NCWASAA consists of the school jurisdictions of Jasper, Grande Cache, Parkland, Lac St. Anne, Drayton Valley Separate, Thibault, Westlock and Barrhead.

WHAT WENT WRONG?

At the outset, trustees in the NCWASAA refused to negotiate conditions of employment with their teachers. In fact, the school trustees whom you elected support the stand that teachers in your community do not even have the right to be consulted in educational matters, at least as far as the contract is concerned. (You might bear this in mind when your local trustee talks about the importance of trustees and teachers working closely together to provide better education!)

Despite several meetings between the negotiating committees of the NCWASAA and teachers, little if any progress was made because of the stand of trustees on the right of teachers to negotiate conditions of employment. (Remember that this right is provided for in The Alberta Labour Act).

Both parties agreed to the appointment of a Conciliation Commissioner to resolve the dispute. At trustee insistance, it was also agreed that the report of the Conciliation Commissioner would have the status of a Conciliation Board Award, and thus would be the last step provided for conciliation in The Alberta Labour Act. Both parties were aware that a trustee lock-out or a teacher strike were possible if either party rejected the award.

Ninety-four percent of 820 teachers accepted the award.

The eight school boards, yours included, unanimously rejected the award.

The trustee rejection of the award and a very unsatisfactory counter-offer to teachers left the teachers with little choice but to apply to the Board of Industrial Relations for a supervised strike vote. It was by now June, and most teachers had taught nearly the entire ten-month school year without a contract with their present school board.

Ninety percent of the teachers in the trustee-formed NCWASAA voted in favour of strike action if necessary, BUT urged their negotiating committee to do everything possible to try to resolve the deadlock.

Teachers did not strike, but continued into their second year of employment with their school boards without a contract, still hoping that a settlement could be reached.

When negotiating committee of the teachers met this September with the representatives of the NCWASAA, teachers found the summer recess had not mellowed the inflexible stand of the trustees. The two-day meeting accomplished little, and thus the negotiating committee of the teachers requested that the trustees submit a final offer to be taken back to the teachers.

The final offer of the trustee NCWASAA was overwhelmingly rejected in a secret ballot vote by the teachers.

WHAT ARE THE ISSUES?

Your trustees apparently expect teachers to accept any and all conditions of employment dictated to them. Even though the Conciliation Award granted trustees the right to make policy, your trustees rejected any hope of settlement of the dispute because teachers were given the right to make representation to the school boards, (which the boards were perfectly free to accept or reject).

Your trustees feel that the teachers in your community are not as deserving as teachers in other regions of Alberta, and even teachers in neighboring school jurisdictions. For example, teachers who work in the Yellowhead (formerly Edson) School Division or in the County of Strathcona are presently being paid higher salaries than those recommended in the Conciliation Award. Yet, your school trustees REJECTED the Conciliation Award.

By joining the NCWASAA on the advice of the Alberta School Trustees Association, your trustees have ignored the wishes of their teachers who feared (and which has now proven to be fact) that a contract settlement of such a large and diverse region would be very difficult. Understanding can be better reached between a single school board and its teachers, than among eight school boards and 820 teachers.

WHAT CAN YOU, AS A PARENT, DO?

You elect trustees to represent you. Discuss the issues with trustees; see for yourself if your trustee represents your viewpoint.

Discuss the issues with teachers. Learn the facts in the dispute, from both sides.

Encourage interested groups to sponsor meettings to hear trustees and teachers. Teachers welcome such meetings.

If you care, act now. Only the taxpayers and parents concerned can exert enough pressure to avert the closure of schools.

SUMMARY:

Teachers are very much aware of the importance of the education of your child, and do not wish to see it interrupted. They have gone more than half way by accepting the Conciliation Award and even offered to modify the award if the trustees were willing to negotiate. However, it takes two sides to reach an agreement.....

Teachers generally are going into their second year of employment without a contract. They are very concerned that trustees are not showing a willingness to break the deadlock.

Teachers are very reluctant to withhold services, but your school trustees have left them with no other choice. In a democracy, the only recourse workers have, if they find working conditions unsuitable and if the employer consistently refuses to alter those conditions, is to refuse to work under those condtions.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I have multiple sclerosis. At times I find living in my wheelchair most depressing. I am unable to get around very well and miss doing outdoor activities, or just being able to do things with my family. We live on a farm and do not have a lot of company. How can I make life a little better for myself?

Dear Friend:

When a handicap hits us, our immediate and normal reaction is to think that this problem has singled us out for the burden. I wonder how many wheelchair folk are within fifty miles radius of where you live? Why don't you write the manager of the nearest radio station, and ask him to help, as a public service feature, to reach out to others in like circumstances. It may be that he'd like to have one of his staff interview you over the air. Have others write in to you. Develop a chain-letter type of correspondence. It may be that through the use of public facilities such as a school bus, you could manage to get a group together once a month or oftener. One of the happiest people I have ever met has carried on a communication effort which has now grown into literally thousands of people and all from the confines of a bed and a wheel-chair. There are many who can help. All it needs is one person to start the ball rolling and that person could be you.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

My husband lives away from home. His work takes him all over Canada. He was at home at Christmas-time - that was all - just long enough, to get the children excited and happy to have him home and then to leave suddenly. My husband wanted a divorce when we talked on this occasion. He claimed that he was living common-law. In conversation, I finally agreed on a legal separation, and a monthly payment of $125 for myself and three children. He wanted the children to come and visit him this summer in Ontario. Reluctantly, I agreed. Today, I received a letter from his lawyer outlining those terms. I was advised to go to a lawyer and have this agreement checked. This I did and the lawyer advised me to have certain clauses changed, such as the visiting rights. He says the children should not go to Ontario but that he should come out west to see them. My husband refuses to accept these changes. Since then, my husband has reduced the monthly stipend to $100.00. I have come to the conclusion that there should be a divorce. But I am afraid of losing the children. What should I do?

Dear Worried:

Continue to work with your lawyer. You have offered your husband divorce, and you are right to the extent that your marriage is really dead anyway. But leave the onus on him to proceed. It is he who is living common-law, not you. Mind you, you cannot force him to seek a divorce. But there isn't a family court which would take the children away from you, under these circumstances. What is more the longer he postpones divorce proceedings, the more he will be delinquent in payments of support and the quicker he digs himself into a situation where it will be difficult for him to meet the demands the court will eventually lay upon him. If you need support in your decision, then any counselling agency will be pleased to help.

Survey Shows Farming Not For Young Men

Farming in Alberta is not a young man's game. The knowledge experience and acquisition of capital required by the executives of modern farming require a couple of decades to achieve. Over half of the province's farmers are between 40 and 60 years of age. About 26 percent are younger and 22 percent are older. However, only about seven percent of them are over 70 years of age.

This information was contained in responses to a farm information and opinion survey recently conducted by the Alberta Wheat Pool. Respondents also indicated an increase in the size of individual farms. Only 28.4 percent of Alberta's producers now farm a half-section or less. Other acreages were indicated as follows: 321 to 640 acres, 27.4%; 640 to 960 acres, 15.7%; 961 to 1280 acres, 10.1%; 1281 to 1600 acres, five percent. Some 12.5% of the province's producers have farms of over two and a half sections.

ALDER FLATS NEWS

The Norm Moores were the first to get hooked up to the Alder Flats Co-op gas line, Ted Maciborski's were next and as of now there will be many more enjoying the natural gas convienience.

Welcome home to Val Pearson who has spent most of the summer in hospital in Edmonton.

Mr. Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left here early Sunday morning to take eight of the high school students to the University gym in Edmonton where they were shown the fundamentals of volley ball. The students were Susan Wennerstrom, Betty McQueen, David Sluchinski, David Frickie, Blayne Johnson, Larry Scrybalo, Robert Maciborski and Dwayne Tugwell.

Mrs. Orr from Rosalind was a weekend visitor at the Lawrence Hoflins.

The Alder Flats Home and School met for its first meeting of the season, Thursday, September 23rd, with a nice group in attendance.

The agenda for the evening was the election of officers, the achievement and awards night, bingo and harvest sale, parent and teacher interview and auditor for the treasurer's books.

The election of officers was as follows: President, Mrs. Shirley Shanks; Vice-President, Mrs. Marie Blades; Secretary, Mrs. Bernice Johnson; Treasurer, Mrs. Eileen Dunn; Program Committee (volunteer) Howard Pearson, Dennis Nelson and Mrs. Joyce Hayduk.

The harvest sale and bingo and awards night will be held October 13th. The best all around award has been re-named to Most Deserving Award. Parent and Teacher interview will be announced later as Winfield, Buck Lake and Alder Flats wish to have it on the same day. Mr. Nelson offered to audit the books.

Mr. Pearson described the new library service to the county and how it worked. The service will be open probably in the new year to this county.

Mr. Pearson would like to start a band in the school and wondered if the Home and School would help raise funds to buy the instruments. A motion was made to write a letter to the County to encourage them to invest funds soon for this purpose.

It was decided that the purpose and function of the plaque was out-dated and to dispense with it. A motion was made to put it in the grade one room.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Eileen Dunn, Mrs. Elsie Seely and Mrs. Nellie Hare.

The Bill Rings had their granddaughter staying with them for a couple of weeks recently while her parents, Roseann and Rodney Forth were on holidays.

the Memorial Composite High School and to submit a recommendation on the administrative requirements.

The School Committee reserved its decision on this matter.

The meeting now adjourned for half hour and everybody present went to see the Stony Plain School grounds.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. MURRAY HODGES

Mr. Murray Hodges, Music teacher, came to see the School Committee regarding the rental fee for the use of band instruments at the Memorial Composite High School and the Spruce Grove Junior High School.

He explained that students taking typing do not pay a rental fee for the use of typewriters, nor do students taking Industrial Arts pay for using the shop equipment. However, the students taking music have to pay a rental fee of $15.00 per year. He felt that if this fee could either be reduced or discontinued altogether quite a few more pupils would take music. He recommended a fee of $5.00 per pupil. The School Committee reserved decision on this matter.

It was moved and carried that the Superintendent's recommendation to provide a service road to run from the south side of Memorial Composite High School to the service entrance on the west side of the new Junior High School be tabled.

It was moved and carried that the matter of a service road to the new Stony Plain Junior High School be referred to the Building Committee.

It was moved and carried that the Superintendent's Report be accepted.

SALARY NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. R. A. Bailey reported briefly on salary negotiations. He advised that the Bargaining team of N.C.A.S.A.A. Group 2 West made a new offer which the opposing party agreed to take to the teachers. On reviewing the latest positions of the 2 parties it was noted that the teachers and the Member Boards are not that far apart. A meeting of all Member Boards is to be held in the County Office in Stony Plain on Monday, September 27th at 7:00 p.m. to consider the matter. The Parkland School Committee agreed to meet at 6:30 p.m. to review its position.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Meston

Meraw - Meston Ceremony Held at St. Anthony's

A lovely fall wedding was celebrated at St. Anthony's Church on September 11, 1971. Frances Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Meraw of Drayton Valley, became the bride of Mr. Richard S. Meston, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Meston of Violet Groye. Reverend Father E. Lynch officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus". She wore a floor length gown of white nylon over peau de soie which featured a scalloped neckline with bodice and three-quarter sleeves covered with seed pearls. Her mantilla veil was a full length train and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and baby's breath. Her only jewellery was a string of pearls with matching ear rings, a gift of the groom.

Preceeding the bride down the aisle was her sister, Susan, as junior bridesmaid. Attending the bride were Valerie Willner, classmate of the bride, Gail Meston, sister of the groom, and Joy Meraw, sister of the bride, as maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of embroidered blue nylon over white satin, featuring empire waist and cuffed full sleeves with contrasting dark blue velvet ribbon at the waist. They wore large white floppy hats with contrasting ribbon and carried baskets of yellow and bronze autumn flowers.

The groom was attended by Lance Schultz as best man, and Charles Swap and Bernard Frost, all of Drayton Valley.

During the wedding mass, appropriate music was played by Mrs. John Martin, the bride's aunt, with the Misses Sadie, Mary, Ellen, Patricia and Colleen Martin singing "On This Day" and "A Wedding Prayer". Colleen sang "Ava Maria" at the Offeratory.

A reception and dance was held at the Elks Hall with the young couple's parents assisting in receiving the many guests. The bride's mother chose a light blue peau de soie dress with matching coat with navy accessories and a pink tea rose corsage completed her ensemble. Mrs. Meston looked lovely in a coral dress with matching sleeveless lace coat and white accessories, complimented by a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Norman Swendseid was very capable as master of ceremonies. Toast to the bride was made by her uncle, Mr. Paul McGee, to the bridesmaids by Lance Schultz, and to the mothers by the groom.

The happy couple left for Jasper and Banff. The bride travelled in a tangerine pant suit with white accessories complimented by a white orchid. Upon their return, they will reside in Drayton Valley.

Many out of town guests attended, including the groom's grandmother, Mrs. M. Meston, from Lacombe. Others came from Vancouver, B.C., Nanaimo, B.C., Regina, Saskatchewan, Edmonton, Wetaskiwin and Camrose.

Firemen Inspect Business Places

Regular meeting of the Drayton Valley Fire Department was held in the Fire Hall on Thursday, September 30th.

Planning for Fire Prevention Week, October 3rd to 9th, occupied a portion of the meeting and included detailing crews for various inspection areas. This year's inspection for fire hazards will be confined primarily to the business area and trailer courts.

The department is also offering an opportunity to school children and youth groups to tour the fire hall to learn about the firemen's part in community life.

Tentative plans were also made for the annual Firemen's Ball which will probably be held in early November.

Little Canadian Football Playoff

Little Canadian football has enjoyed one of the most successful seasons ever in Drayton Valley and district. The weather was excellent for the most part and competition was very keen in the three team community league.

The Stampeders with five wins and two losses finished first in regular league games. The Stamps under Coach Rick Simon got off to a slow start but picked up momentum as the season went along. To date the Red Raiders seem to be able to come up with the big play when they really need it and this has meant victory for them in several close games throughout the regular schedule.

The Eskimos under the direction of Dale Clemmer and Terry McGowan have been playing .500 football all season. In fact after six games the Esks had won 3, lost 3 and had 50 points scored with 50 points scored against them. The little Green outfit is a sturdy football team and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the playoffs.

Then the Blue Bombers with Bruce Clemmer and Wilf Zorn at the helm have come on strong in their last two games. The Bombers got off on the wrong foot losing four league games in a row. Now it looks like the Bombers will make a real strong bid to hold on to the Forster Trophy emblematic of the Community Football championship which they won last year for the first time ever.

To sum up the season to date, all three teams have played an excellent brand of football for this level of competition. A great part of the success of this season and the improvement in the calibre of football over past years must go to the coaches of each team as well as the continued effort of John Poloway, the Minor Football Commissioner on the Drayton Valley Athletic Association. All these men have put in long hours and have been most devoted in their efforts of promoting Minor Football in this community. Also many parents have been in attendance at the games this year and their help and support was most appreciated and has been an important factor in the success and high calibre of this season's program.

Another contribution to the success of the program has been that of the game officials. A lot of time and effort goes into this phase of the program as well. The officiating team of Mike Gormley, Allan Day, Craig Featherstone and Ron Bartek along with John Poloway have officiated regularly during the season league games.

Now we are heading into the playoffs. It is open season on the Forster Trophy and any one of the three teams, the Blue Bombers, the Eskimos or the Stampeders could bring home the prize.

The playoffs opened Monday evening with the Eskimos and the Blue Bombers playing the first of a two-game total point series. The winner will go on to the final against the Stampeders and the final games will likely be played during the long weekend.

Parents and anyone interested are invited to attend these games. We are sure that you will be pleased with the calibre of football that you will see. All games will be played at the Little Canadian Football Field in the Lions West Valley Recreation Park.

LIBRARY NEWS

New books this week for adults include: "The White Dawn" by James Houston. The book is called "An Eskimo Saga" and James Houston is especially well able to write it for he lived on Baffin Island for twelve years. The story is a novel of three whalers who are stranded in the Arctic and are nursed back to health after being found almost dead of exposure and hunger.

"A Plague of Sailors" is the second book written by the highly successful author of "A Flock of Ships". The story is one of action involving germ warfare, rammed ships and earthquake-racked Isreal.

In "Decoy in Diamonds" Natalie Gates has written a book you will not want to put down until the last page is read. A world cruise, a visit to a diamond mine, possession of a fabulous stone, and hot pursuit by diamond thieves give a thrill in every chapter.

Alfred Coppel has written a never to be forgotten hi-jack story in "Between the Thunder and the Sun" Transcontinental Flight 17 is bound for Miami but is ordered to Cuba and becomes involved with a hurricane on the way.

"World Well Lost" by John Aiken is the latest addition to the Science Fiction shelf.

"Lifeboat Number Two" by Margaret Culkin Banning is another pleasent story by this well-known writer. The story is laid on a cruise ship.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

My husband has asked me to say how very much he appreciates the many kindnesses, cards and visits he has received while in the Drayton Valley and University Hospitals. At home we are looking forward to having our husband father and grandfather back with us in about a weeks time. A most sincere "Thank You" from all of us.

Mr. James Taylor, Jimmy Taylor and to many of us, celebrated his ninetieth birthday on September 29th.

Very best good wishes for future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. Terry McGowan, nee Linda McMorris, who were married in Drayton Valley on October 2nd.

Saw proud grandpa, Bert Palmer, on Saturday and was greeted with the remark, "I know some news that you don't". Questioning elicted the information that the Palmer daughter, Mrs. Don Schmidt, has a brand new baby, a daughter.

The Ed Feniaks are moving to Edmonton and will be greatly missed by their many friends here. Good-bye and good luck, Mr. and Mrs. Feniak.

Mrs. Edward Hines Sr. is a patient in the local hospital.

Mr. Clint Vickrey, of Creston, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, of Pincher Creek were in the district recently. Mrs. Ole Stordalsvoll is a daughter of the Fishers.

Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Dan Bills were hostesses in Mr. and Mrs. Nick Urchyshyn's home on Saturday evening for a bridal shower in honour of Miss Donna Beckett, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lylle Beckett. Mrs. Albert Hodgson was in charge of entertainment. Miss Beckett will marry Mr. Kenneth Hopfe in Drayton Valley on October 9th.

Mrs. Roy Plotts is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Freezon in Dawson Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McGinn, now of Stony Plain, were in Drayton Valley to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and other old friends. The McGinns lived in the Tomahawk area for years. Mrs. McGinn taught school and it is always a pleasure for her to see some of her former pupils.

Mrs. Nick Urchyshyn is the "Wedding Cake Lady". Mrs. Urchyshyn makes and decorates the most delicious fruit cakes and with romance booming her services are in great demand.

From time to time people are kind enough to telephone a piece of news or to drop it into the mail. Both are greatly appreciated. If sending the item by mail will you please sign it and give your telephone number?

We are indebted to Mr. Ed Hines for the following story -- Farmers hereabouts have been having considerable trouble lately with coyotes bothering their livestock. When a commotion in the barnyard wakened Ted Tucker he grabbed his rifle and dashed out. Sure enough there was a coyote intent on obtaining either a pork or poultry dinner. What followed casts no aspersion on either Ted's eye-sight or marksmanship - it was a dark night. To all inquiries regarding the incident Ted replies "This is the best coyote I ever ate."

Mr. and Mrs. B. Frost

All Saints' Setting For Recent Ceremony

A lovely wedding was held in All Saints Anglican Church on Saturday, August 28th, 1971 when Miss Esther Dianne Thomson, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Thomson, formerly of Hardisty, became the bride of Bernard Thomas Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frost of Rocky Rapids. Mauve gladioli and white chrysanthimums graced the alter. Rev. B. McQuaid officiated the double ring ceremony.

Miss Cindy Sharkey played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Carole Kruger.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Conrad Brisbois, looked radiant in a traditional white gown of satin with an embroidered overgown of organdy. The Satin embroidery was featured on the gown front, the empire bodice and sleeves. Satin ribbon, threaded around the full train, bodice and sleeves accentuated the gown. A small garland of satin leaves and flowers held the bride's full length veil which was edged with matching lace. Completing her attire the bride wore white wrist length lace gloves and white shoes. She carried a bridal bible with a white orchid surrounded by purple stannis and white stephanotis with ivy and ribbon streamers.

Attending the bride were Joan Lemiski, friend of the bride; Ellisa Thomson, sister of the bride; and Marilyn Frost, sister of the groom. They wore pale mauve moire satin gowns complimented by white daisies on the prominent seams, complimented by white gloves and shoes. The girls all carried identical white bibles with mauve and purple ribbons which cascaded down the front of their floor length gowns. White flowers dotted their hair like stars.

The groom's attendants were Rick Meston of Drayton Valley; Lanny Schultz of Edmonton; and Charlie Swap of Rocky Rapids. Colin Frost, brother of the groom carried the traditional white and mauve ring cushion. Bill Hanson and Dennis Brisebois ushered the guests.

The reception was held at the Elk's Hall in Drayton Valley. Receiving were David and Laurie Brisebois, cousins of the bride

The bride's mother chose a metallic fortrel in a semi-fitted style, white shoes, gloves and hat completed the ensemble. The groom's mother wore a blue turquois dress with matching duster coat and white accessories. Both mothers wore pink sweetheart roses.

The head table was decorated in shades of mauve and purple centred by a three tiered cake decorated in traditional white with small cupids and mauve flowers. Mr. C. Palmer of Wetaskiwin gave the toast to the bride. Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Mr. Don Compton of Drayton Valley.

For their honeymoon to Vancover, Penticton, Jasper and Banff, the bride changed to purple hot pants and white accessories.

The young couple will reside in Edmonton where they are both employed.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Al Olson, Marysville, Washington, aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Russel Friend, Marysville, Washington, friends of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schutt, Burlington, Washington, aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Len Kjorlien, Calgary, aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. James Falconer, Edmonton, aunt and uncle of the bride; Chris Vander Merwe and Michelle, of Edmonton, cousins of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Palmer, Wetaskiwin, friends of the bride.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Basic to all learning in school is the teaching of reading. For without this very necessary skill, the child becomes handicapped and frustrated in most school activities. Reading is taught at all times of the day and in all subjects. However it is necessary to teach the basic skills in a systematic and interesting way. Some children acquire these skills pleasantly and easily while others experience difficulty.

To give you an idea of the scope of this activity, here are just a few of the objectives teachers keep in mind when working with children:

- to stimulate a keen interest in learning to read
- to develop the ability to understand what they read.
- to organize ideas secured from reading and learn how to apply them.
- to read aloud effectively.
- to develop an interest in a wide variety of good literature.

Teachers use several types of instruction. Firstly, there are regular daily lessons. Our time table now show reading as being part of the Language Arts program. This means that we consider the teaching of Reading, Language, Spelling, Phonics and Literature as being interrelated. Between one and a half and two hours a day is devoted to this area. The teacher uses as much of this time allotment as necessary for actual instruction in the basic reading program.

Secondly, extension reading gives children the opportunity to read from other readers and in other subject areas.

Thirdly, recreational reading allows the child to choose books which interest him in particular. You'll notice that some children go through a whole series of books, whether they be horse stories, Hardy boys, Thorton Burgess books Bobsey Twins, science fiction or what have you.

A special type of reading lesson is given when pupils experience certain difficulties. This is known as corrective reading and may involve lessons in any area of weakness.

The teacher needs to keep the needs of her pupils in mind, as she plans her lessons. Balancing a reading program is sometimes as difficult as balancing the budget.

cational development in the division.

CANDIDATES' FORUM

I have represented the Town of Drayton Valley on the Parkland School Committee for two years. During this time I have worked continuously for the expansion of facilities to meet the ever increasing population of our community. Unfortunately our building program has been beset by numerous difficulties, long negotiations with the department of education and this summer the building trade strikes, however the new high school building will be ready to move into on October 31st.

I will continue to work to improve the educational facilities of Drayton Valley. There is a growing awareness that our school should be used for more community activities. During the past year negotiations have been proceeding favorably to make the schools available for community recreation.

Adult education classes have expanded considerably over the past year and it is my hope to see the adult education classes increase to the point where there is a class every evening of the week.

In these days of ever increasing costs it is a constant struggle to keep the cost of education within the budget of the taxpayer.

I will contine to work to provide the best possible education for our children at the same time keeping costs to the taxpayer within reason.

At this time I would like to thank all the concerned parents who have brought problems to my attention during the past two years. Your school committee representative depends upon the public to make their requests known.

On October 13, I solicit your support at the polls. I am willing to spend the time and effort necessary to give Drayton Valley experienced representation on the Parkland School Committee.

J. W. Tyler.

My reason for accepting the nomination to rerun for council is basically the same as last time. I believe that every stratum of our society should be represented and that a woman should have some part in running the business of this town.

I have lived in Drayton Valley for the last twelve years and have been on the executive of numerous clubs both service and sports. I hold a degree of medicine from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

For the past year I have been a member of the Town Council and Chairman of the Health and Welfare Committee. I have found the work both stimulating and interesting. I maintain, as anyone who has held an office knows that the first six months to a year, one is really learning one's position and the second year, one is much more confident and able to do a really good job.

I do not have a platform per se because I do not represent a political party and would be only one seventh of the council if elected but I do hold quite strong views on granting rent payers a vote on money by-laws. I am in the process of certain activities which I would very much like to see completed namely investigating some of the injustices of the social assistance in this town, the siting of a new nuisance ground, the clearing up of the trailer parks to make them less of a fire and health hazard. I am liason officer of the Emergency Measures Organization which is in the process of getting reorganized for any civilial disaster which may occur.

I strongly believe that one should tackle each problem as it arises, study the matter thoroughly and then after careful though make a judicious and honest decision. Should I be elected, this is what I would do to the very best of my ability.

Opportunities for Youth Project Completed

Tomahawk was fortunate in having its application for the Opportunities for Youth Program accepted by the Federal Government which took in the months of July and August. Now that the project has been completed the Tomahawk and District Club would like to extend its thanks to everyone who helped make the program a success.

The youth of Tomahawk involved showed initiative and leadership and Tomahawk can be proud of them.

The projects which were undertaken included painting of the skating rink fence and recreation centre; construction and painting of two sets of bleachers; booth repairs and painting; painting the back stop at the ball diamond; finishing the fence by the curling rink; brushing, cutting grass and fence repairs at the cemetery; and general hall repairs.

The wages for the youth were paid by the Federal Government but the cost of materials had to be paid by Tomahawk and District Club. The Tomahawk Fire Department upon hearing of the program donated $200.00 toward the construction of the bleachers which the Tomahawk and District Club is very grateful for.

DRUGS AND THE LIVESTOCK PRODUCER

The economic threat posed by disease problems and the different management conditions - confined lots, high energy feeds - frequently encountered in beef, dairy and swine has led to an unhealthy reliance on the use of drugs.

Since drugs have become such an important part of today's farming operation, the owner must have the proper knowledge and experience to ensure his getting the most for his money. It is equally important that his use of these agents is not creating a public health hazard.

Proper care and handling of drugs on the farm can reduce the cost of disease control to the farmer. Most drugs of the injectible type should be stored below room temperature and away from light. A used refrigerator can make an excellent and inexpensive place for storing drugs. Manufacturers are reluctant to make statements guaranteeing the usefulness of a drug left standing or on a barn window.

Fitness Classes Start Wednesday

All those who have registered with the recreation department for the Yoga, or mixed physical fitness classes, come to the Junior High School shortly before seven-thirty on Wednesday, October 3rd. Bring a blanket and wear loose clothing - a cat suit, sweat suit or anything of the like. This session will include members of both groups, the youth (under 18) and adults (18 and over).

In answer to some questions for those who may still be considering taking the eight week course - the course endeavors to do what it states, offer physical fitness. It has been called Yoga classes because many of the exercises and routine find their base in the Yoga philosphy but what in actuality you will find will be a vast combination of the above along with isometrics, calethenics, proper breathing technique, nutrition awareness, tension release (relaxation) and the pleasure of working in a group toward better physical and mental health because one cannot escape an improvement in his mental state when his physical state improves. From the fitness program you will find a gain in some or all of the following areas. A strengthening and reconditioning of your entire body. A more youthful flexibility of your body. An ability to relax under pressure. A redistribution of your weight in accordance with your physical structure. One will gain a restoring of grace, balance, poise and self confidence and you will notice a startling improvement in everyone of your activities wheth er it be a team sport such as hockey, basketball, volleyball or an individual sport such as bad minton, swimming, tennis, bowl ing or curling or a hobby. More important you will achieve greater personel enjoyment from your activities. These things you will begin to notice taking place with in seven to ten days.

If you are looking for something mystical and as some youth say far out, then, this is not a program for you. This is a highly enjoyable group physical fitness program and nothing more, register before Wednesday, October 9th. Changing rooms are available at the school.

SPEEDY BREAKFAST

To many people the idea of a speedy breakfast means a hasty cup of coffee and perhaps a slice of toast. Does this hit home? Too many mothers have a leisurely cup of coffee - perhaps a slice of toast - after they get the children off to school, this is a typical breakfast picture.

That leisurely cup of coffee is a fine idea but it shouldn't take the place of a good breakfast. Breakfast is an important meal for all the family. Scientific surveys have shown that you can't sail through a morning's work without a definite drop in energy before noon, unless you have an adequate breakfast.

There is a definite connection between breakfast and overweight. Strange as it may seem eating a good breakfast is one of the best ways to keep your weight down. Overweight people skip breakfast in an attempt to cut down on calories but become over-hungry and so snack on high calorie foods or over-eat at lunch. It is believed that one metabolizes food more completely and there is less tendency for fat to deposit when meals are eaten frequently. Probably the basic reason people have for no breakfast or poor breakfast habit is lack of time - or rather the belief that "there just is not time".

The children as they dash off to school - just don't have time and Dad well he never was in the habit of eating and mother, well she's just too busy.

What makes a good breakfast? It includes energy foods in the form of (1) enriched bread, (2) whole grain cereals, (3) citrus fruits. Since protein and fat take longer than carbohydrate to digest it is important to include them for breakfast. Meat, eggs and milk help prevent mid-morning hunger pangs and fatigue.

A toast, jam and coffee breakfast can be easily changed to an orange, rolled oat cereal, broiled french toast and coffee breakfast.

REMEMBER -- OCTOBER 13th is the day to VOTE !
